

Millicent Nabututu Makokha

Bungoma, Kenya
GitHub: <https://github.com/milliecandie> LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/millicent-makokha>
0791679007 | candymillie56@gmail.com

Objective

A highly motivated and detail-oriented Journalism and Mass Communication graduate with a passion for storytelling and digital communication. Skilled in news writing, video editing, and social media management. Currently studying Software Development at Power Learn Project Academy to bridge the gap between tech and journalism. Eager to apply my creativity, communication, and coding skills in dynamic media and tech environments.

Education

- Sigalagala National Polytechnic September 2019 - September 2022
Diploma in Journalism and Mass Communication
- Power Learn Project Academy 2025
Software Development

Current Studies

- Currently Studying:
Software Development - Power Learn Project Academy

Experience

- Maisha Television Kenya - Bungoma
Internship experience
News Anchoring

Video and audio editing

Script writing, voicing, and marketing

News gathering and field reporting
- Kenya News Agency - Kisumu
Internship Experience
Feature writing and photography

Reporting for electronic media

Public relations and media liaison
- Fresh Fm Online Radio
Internship Experience
Social media manager

News reporting

Anchoring and editing

Skills

- ✔ Social Media Management ✔ News & Feature Writing ✔ Script Writing & Editing ✔ Photography & Videography ✔
Public Relations ✔ Research & Digital Reporting

Interests

- 🎯 Tech & Digital Journalism
- 🎯 Cybersecurity Awareness
- 🎯 Content Creation & Web Storytelling
- 🎯 Coding with HTML, CSS, and Python

Achievements & Awards

-  BrighterMonday Soft Skills Certificate Effective communication, employability skills, creative problem-solving, emotional intelligence, and personal effectiveness
-  Certificate of Participation National Book Week, 2010 Sponsored by National Book Development Council of Kenya, held at Maseno University